

The other day I got an email from a friend of mine named Skip who's currently in Bolivia. If you know him, you know his story and what amazing things he is doing. If you don't know Skip go over to his blog and meet him. Skip is currently working with the street kids who basically sniff glue all day trying to numb the pain that their life brings them. Before continuing to read this post, please visit Skip's blog and read his stories and look through some of his pictures. You can find it at skipbachman.wordpress.com

We've got time, seriously go look around and read some entries first.....

Here's the deal. Skip emailed me and wants me to fly down there next month to shoot a documentary to bring back home to show everyone here what is going on with this group of street kids. He understands that people here need to see this and do something about it just as Jesus would. And I couldn't agree with him more!

It's a big task just to get a visa that quick much less raise the money and everything else in time to do this. But I know that God is way bigger than anything we could ever imagine and is much more capable than anything we could hope for. So what I'm asking of everyone is that they would partner with me and Skip to make this happen. Here's a short list of what we need to make this happen.

1. $1,300
2. tons of prayer

These kids need us and there is no better way than a film that will show people all around the world what's going on with these kids. What would it say about our God to see hundreds and thousands of kids, who were once considered no bodies strung out of glue, have their lives restored and be able to have a "normal" life without worrying about not eating or even being killed.

So we ask you, will you partner with us. Whether it's through money or prayer or both. These kids need it and we have to do something about it! These kids lives are broken, wrecked, and bleeding and Jesus is calling us to take him to the wound. Please pray about partnering with us to make a difference in the lives of these kids! If you can help email me at brad@lifepointnow.com. We need to move fast so if you can help please, don't hesitate.
